Hainesville's Village Hall

The second floor of this building is currently being used as Hainesville's Village Hall.

Seekatz Builders own the building and have their offices on the first floor.

This building is located on the south side of Route 120 in Hainesville.

Hainesville's Governmental Body

Hainesville's Village Government consists of the following people:

Erland Johnson, Building Commissioner; Norbert Lisk, Trustee;

George Schlung, Trustee; Richard Sloan, Trustee; Kenneth Clark,

Village Attorney; Anthony Fontana, Jr., Trustee; Dan Schappert,

Trustee; and Joseph Gliwa, Trustee.

Hainesville's Police Department

There are currently nine people assigned to the Hainesville's Police Department.

Cranberry Lake

This small lake which is situated in the Village of Hainesville, is a lovely lake surrounded by a marsh and large oak trees.

Its name is derived from the cranberries that once grew there and which yielded two hundred bushels annually.

It is located just west of Hainesville Road and north of Route 120.

It is presently owned by the Grayslake Gelatin Company.

Avon Township Youth Baseball Park

On the east side of Hainesville Road, on the property that once belonged to the Renehan Family, is Hainesville's Youth Baseball Park.

This parcel of land was donated for the use of a ball park by the Grayslake Gelatin Company.

They began in the spring of 1966 and today they have six fields and a large parking lot. There is also a refreshment stand available for the ball-players and spectators.

The Country Boutiques

The Country Boutiques Antique Shop began their business in Hainesville in 1964. The building has a long line of history behind it.

It was once George Battershall's store and it was also Hainesville's Post Office.

It is alive today with the things of the past.

Antiques & Things

This quaint antique shop began their business in Hainesville in 1969. This building was once a service station and lunch room which serviced many travelers along Route 120.

Today, Mrs. Martha Erickson is its proprietor of this lovely shop, situated on the main street in Hainesville.

Stewart Smith's Herb Plants

Stewart Smith's herb green-house in Hainesville is a place most enjoyable to visit.

He has been the proprietor of his green-house for almost 30 years and is extremely knowledgeable in herb plants.

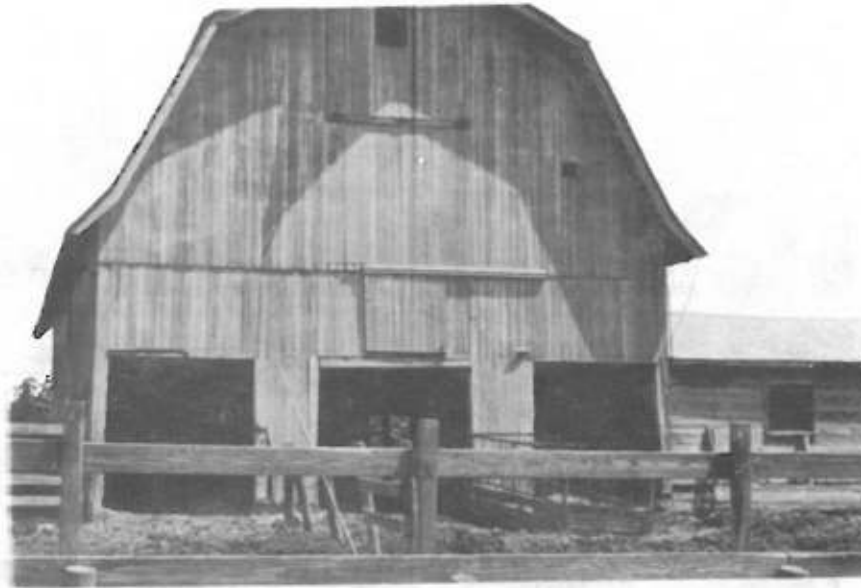

His green-house is located at the intersection of Route 120 and Hainesville Road.

These buildings are part of the Grayslake Gelatin Farm on the south side of Route 120 in Hainesville.

The Gelatin Company owns 1,706 acres that surrounds the Village of Grayslake on three sides.

The Grayslake farm was started in 1935 as an investment by Harry Epstein, John Epstein's father. In 1927 the Grayslake Gelatin Co. in Grayslake was founded.

This barn is also a part of the farm that is owned by the Grayslake Gelatin Company. It is located north on Route 134.

The farms raise hundreds of pigs annually, they have a very good dairy herd, and also grow corn, alfalfa, oats, and soybeans.

This immense farm spread boundaries are Curran Road near Round Lake on the west to Alleghany Road on the east. It also stretches south to the Avon-Fremont Township line and north to Drury Lane.

In between these boundaries is a stretch of land between Alleghany Road and Renehan Road.

J & L Service Station

This service station was erected by the J & L Oil Company in 1965. It is located at the intersections of Route 120 and Hainesville Road.

It is managed by Earl Creek.

Green's Auto Service

Mr. Charles Green began his auto service in Hainesville in 1970. His business is located just north of the J & L Service Station, at the intersections of Route 120 & Hainesville Road.

Paul's Union 76

For the past ten and half years Paul Vickers has been operating a service station on Route 134 in the Village of Hainesville. His courteous service has proven beneficial for motorists in our area of Hainesville.

Pioneer Blacktop Company

In 1973, Pioneer Blacktop started their blacktop business in Hainesville. They are located on Route 120 on the north side of the highway.

Stop N Save

Hainesville's food shop opened in 1966, with Donald Florian as its proprietor. Bruce Behrendt is the owner of the group of stores that were constructed at the same time, at the intersections of Route 134 and Fairlawn Avenue.

Its flourishing business is currently servicing residents of the Round Lake area.

Lakeland Laundromat & Dry Cleaners

A laundromat business has been in operation in this building for the past ten years. Lakeland Laundromat is the present manager of this laundromat business.

Its location is at the intersection of Route 134 and Fairlawn Avenue.

Nor-Con

The Nor-Con industry began their business in Hairesville approximately three years ago. They manufacture electronic components.

They are located at the intersections of Route 134 and Fairlawn Avenue.

This home is the residence of Hainesville's current President,
Robert I. Legge.

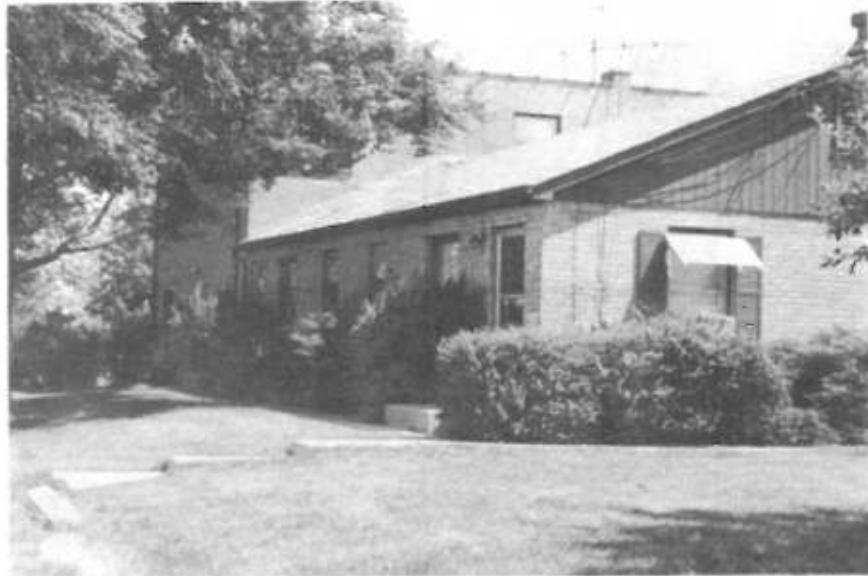

They purchased their home on Pineview Avenue in 1943 and for the past 33 years they have lived in Hainesville, they have watched the growth and development take place all around them.

This brick ranch home is currently occupied by Hainesville's
Police Commissioner, George Schlung.

The home was built in the early 1950's by James Wehr.

It is situated on Hall Court in Hainesville.

George Miller's Apartments

In 1959, George Miller purchased a parcel of land at the intersections of Route 120 and Gage Street in Hainesville and built a three unit apartment building. The property once belonged to the Fritsch and Heard families.

This large old residence was originally the McQuire residence.

It presently is owned by the Volle Family.

The property also has two homes which are located in back of the large old home.

This property is located on the main street in Hainesville,
Route 120.

The early victorian residence is that of the Erland Johnson Family.
It is over 120 years old and has been occupied by some prominent settlers of Hainesville. It is located in Block 1, in the village.

The Dan Schappert residence is a lovely victorian style home. It is a home that dates back over a hundred years ago and was also occupied by early pioneers of Hainesville. It is located in Block 3, in the Village of Hainesville.

The Belvidere House

In 1968, Mrs. Blanche Fontana began her antique shop in Hainesville. The Belvidere House was truly a fitting name, as it is situated on Belvidere Road in Hainesville.

This large old home is presently situated on the Grayslake Gelatin Farm property south on Route 120.

It originally was located on the Ezra Shanks farm at Squaw Creek.

It was moved here in the 1920's by a man named Jack Heirs. Lyle

Loftus was one of the men who help with the operation.

Hainesville's fourth school house was built in 1940, and is located on the south side of Route 120 in Hainesville.

It is currently unoccupied and belongs to the Round Lake School District.

Avon Apartments

In the middle of the 1950's, James Wehr built the Avon Motel.

In 1959, Peter Kerpan had purchased it and converted the property from a motel into a four unit apartment complex.

Clyde Pecor then purchased the property in 1967 and retained it until 1973, when he sold it to Henry Braun, who is the current owner.

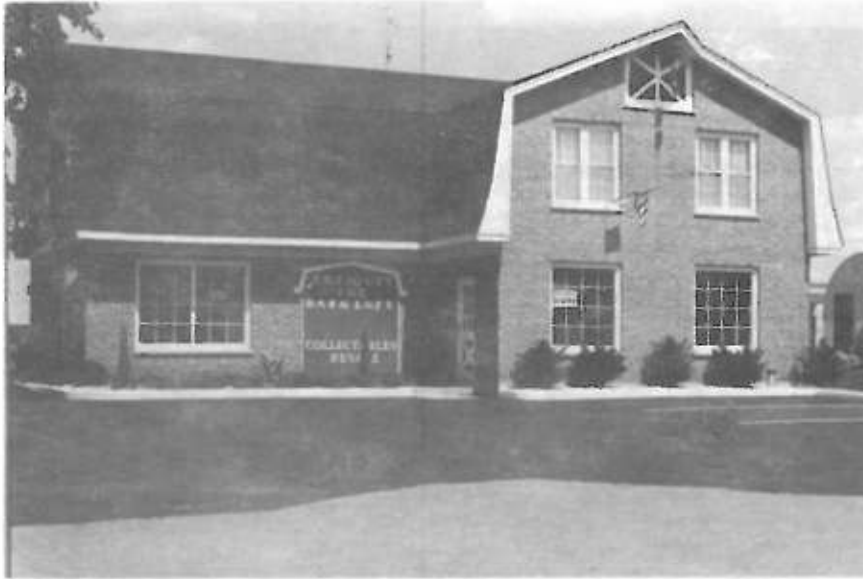

Tom's Auto

Tom's Auto began their business in Hainesville in 1973.

Their business is towing, storing & transporting junk cars.

They are located on Route 120, on the north side of the highway.

The old home on the property is one of Hainesville's historic homes. This house is just about a hundred years old and many of Hainesville's old pioneers occupied it.

Mr. George Benjamin is the owner of this pretentious building. He built the structure in 1974, and it is located at the intersections of Route 120 and Hainesville Road.

V. F. W. Hall

This building which is being used by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was once located in Hainesville and was their third school house. It was moved to Round Lake Park several years ago and is occupied by the veterans as a meeting hall.
